PROCEEDINGS

THE DEPUTY CLERK: This is Civil Case, year 2012-456, John Xereas versus Majorie A. Heiss, et al. Erin Glavich for the plaintiff. William O'Neil and Miles Karson, III for the defendants. This is a continuation of the jury trial.

THE COURT: Again, good morning to all of you.

Already we have received a note from the jury. I asked

Ms. Lesley to share the note with you so that you would be prepared to respond on the record. I will hear your proposals how the Court should respond to the notes and the two questions in it. There are two other agenda items, however, that I believe -- well, two other agenda items that

I believe we can dispose of quickly, and that is why I will address those first.

First, I realized that I neglected, and none of you reminded me, I neglected to inform the jury that the testimony of Mr. Morrissey was stricken. I believe I must do that to avoid confusion. And when the jury enters, I believe, that is the first item that I should clarify. In other words, my own mistake.

It was brought to my attention by my law clerk, again all of you let me down, that I omitted the instructions regarding tortious interference. I am not certain how that occurred, but in our effort to review what was communicated by Mr. Wayne, the court reporter, who was here yesterday, and just our general review of the status I somehow omitted the tortious interference instructions, so I must give those. I believe the point to do that is after I answer the jury's questions, so we will treat that as item three.

The instructions that I will read, of course, are the ones that we already reviewed. And I'm speaking of the instructions captioned Tortious Interference with Existing Contractual Relationships, and Tortious Interference with Prospective Business Relationships.

Now the matter that I will address second in sequence is the, when the jury comes in is the jury's note. Did everyone have an opportunity to confer regarding the note? Ms. Glavich, as counsel for plaintiff, I will ask you that question first. Let me remind counsel to use the podium microphone.

MS. GLAVICH: Yes, I reviewed the note, your Honor.

THE COURT: And what is your request? Well, I should rephrase my own question. Did the parties reach an agreement regarding how the Court should respond?

MS. GLAVICH: The first one we agreed that it is a typo. There was a typo on the verdict form.

THE COURT: Have the parties had an opportunity to

1 prepare an edited form?

2 MS. GLAVICH: No, we have not had a chance to 3 prepare an edited form.

THE COURT: Mr. O'Neil?

MR. O'NEIL: Neither party has a printer on the premises, so we can just do a hand edit to the numbering I suppose.

THE COURT: Is the hand edit that you propose to change quote "2A" close quote to 1A?

MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor, I believe that's our understanding. Originally this was the second question, so when they edited the form and took out the first question for trademark infringement, I think the numbers below the top number just didn't change, so it should be question two, 2A, 2B.

THE COURT: Very well. That means the jury did a better job of proofreading than all of us did.

MR. O'NEIL: That is correct.

MS. GLAVICH: Yes.

THE COURT: Ms. Lesley is handing you the verdict form, and I will ask the two of you to please make that edit. We have correction tape if that will help.

MR. O'NEIL: This verdict --

THE COURT: Would you like the -- we have two choices of correction tape here. Thank you.

1
               MR. O'NEIL: Given my penmanship, your Honor, I'm 2
     going to defer to Ms. Glavich to make that.
 3
               THE COURT: As to the second question on the note 4 from the jury I imagine there is little dispute. I believe 5
     the answer to the question is yes, trademark infringement is 6
     no longer an issue. You in agreement?
 7
               MS. GLAVICH: Yes, your Honor.
               THE COURT: Mr. O'Neil?
 9
               MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor, that's fine.
10
               THE COURT: Are the two of you ready for the jury?
11
               MS. GLAVICH: Mr. Xereas is out in the hall.
12
               THE COURT: Oh, of course, I'm sorry.
1.3
               MR. O'NEIL: We're ready, your Honor.
14
               THE COURT:
                           Thank you.
15
               [Brief pause.]
16
               THE COURT: Thank you. Good morning, Mr. Xereas, 17
    please have a seat.
18
               [Thereupon, Jury enters courtroom at 10:37 a.m.]
19
               THE COURT: Members of the jury, good morning.
20
    Please take a seat.
21
               We again join in thanking you so much for your 22 attention to the trial of this matter and your ongoing 23 deliberations. We realized as a result of a note that you 24 sent how attentive you actually have been because you caught 25 matters that the Court should have caught, a question that the Court should have answered. We will do so completely.

understand the Court should have answered. We will do so completely.

Before I answer the two questions in your note, however, there is one matter that I realized I should have brought to your attention yesterday and did not that concerns the testimony of Mr. Morrissey. The reason that no one made reference to Mr. Morrissey during closing arguments is because the Court struck Mr. Morrissey's testimony. Thus, his testimony is not a part of the evidence for your consideration during your deliberations.

To the extent that you may have already had discussions concerning Mr. Morrissey's testimony, you are now to resume your deliberations with the understanding that you are to give no further consideration, and any consideration you did give should be eliminated from your deliberative process.

Now, on to your note, your first question reads on page 1 of the verdict sheet, question one it says, quote "If the answer is yes, proceed to question 2A," close quote. Similarly, it says, "The same re: 2B, is this a typo?

Should it say 1A and 1B?" The answer is yes. It is indeed a typo. The typo has been corrected and you will receive the corrected version as soon as you go back to the deliberation room.

Your second question reads, "Just to clarify in the trial one of the attorneys mentioned a trademark infringement charge. Is this no longer an issue for us to consider?" The answer to that question is yes, you are correct. The trademark infringement claim which was addressed at various points during the trial is no longer an issue for you to consider. And indeed, you will see that there are no references to trademark infringement on the verdict sheet, the verdict form.

Finally, another error was brought to my attention, and this is entirely my error. I omitted during the giving of the instructions the instructions governing tortious interference with existing contractual relationships, and tortious interference with prospective business relationships. I am prepared to give those instructions now.

First, tortious interference with existing contractual relationships, in this action the defendants have alleged that the plaintiff intentionally interfered with existing business relationships between the defendants and third parties including customers, talent managers, agents, comics, vendors and other members of the comedy industry.

You must consider whether the evidence establishes the following four elements; one, there was a contract between the defendants and a third party; two, the plaintiff had knowledge of that contract; three, the plaintiff acted intentionally to interfere with the performance of the contract in a way that induced or caused the third party to breach or not to perform on the contract with the defendants; and four, the defendants suffered damages caused by the plaintiff's intentional interference.

establishes all four elements of this claim then you should find in favor of the defendants. If the defendants failed to prove any one of these elements then your finding as to that claim must be for the defendant -- excuse me, then your finding as to that claim, and when I say "that claim," I mean tortious interference with existing contractual relationships, must be for the plaintiff.

I will read the last two sentences again. If you find a preponderance of the evidence establishes all four elements of this claim then you should find in favor of the defendants. If defendants failed to prove any one element of the four that I identified then your finding must be for the plaintiff.

Next, tortious interference with prospective business relationships; in this action the defendants have also alleged that the plaintiff intentionally interfered with prospective business relationships that were expected between the defendants and third parties including customers, talent managers, agent, comics, vendors, and other members of the comedy industry.

You must consider whether the evidence establishes the following four elements; one, there was a valid business relationship or expectancy between the defendants and certain third parties; two, the plaintiff had knowledge of that relationship or expectancy; three, the plaintiff acted intentionally to interfere with the relationship in a way that is induced or caused a third party to breach or to end the prospective relationship with the defendants; and four, the defendants suffered damages caused by the plaintiff's intentional interference.

If defendants proved all elements of this claim by a preponderance of the evidence then plaintiff is liable for the resulting damages. If defendants failed to prove any one element of this claim you must find in favor of the plaintiff.

Having addressed the questions that you asked as well as the matters which the Court should have addressed yesterday and purely as a result of oversight did not, I am prepared to ask the deputy marshal to assist you in returning to the jury deliberation room. Thank you so very much for your continued careful attention.

[Thereupon, Jury exits courtroom at 10:48 a.m.]

THE COURT: Do all of you expect to remain in the

1 building? If you leave for any reason just please, give 2
    your contact information to Ms. Lesley, and I suggest that 3
    you not go farther than any distance than would allow you to 4
     get back in 15 to 20 minutes. Thank you. We'll recess 5
     again at this time.
 6
               [Thereupon, recess taken at 10:49 a.m., resuming 7
               at 2:42 p.m.]
 8
               THE COURT: Good afternoon. Ms. Lesley shared 9 with you the note that we received, and afforded you an 10 opportunity to review it and discuss how you believe the 11
     Court should respond. Are you ready to discuss that now?
12
              MS. GLAVICH: Yes, your Honor.
13
              MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor.
14
               THE COURT: Did you reach a consensus regarding 15 either of the two questions?
16
               MR. O'NEIL: I believe we did, your Honor.
17
               THE COURT: Very well. Let me ask one of you to 18 come to the podium, please.
19
              MR. O'NEIL: Your Honor, with respect to the first 20 question about tortuous and tortious. And I think that -- 21
               THE COURT: That's the second question. That's 22
     the easy one.
23
              MR. O'NEIL: That's the easy one. I was getting 24 that out of the way first.
```

THE COURT: The jurors have discovered another

1
     typographical error.
 2
              MR. O'NEIL: I think that might be mine, your 3 Honor. With respect to the -- 4
               THE COURT: Can you make the change by hand?
 5
              MR. O'NEIL: I believe so, your Honor.
 6
               THE COURT: I see the word quote, T-O-R-T-U-O-U-S, 7
     close quote twice on page four. So I assume you have agreed 8 that you will take the correction tape and make the changes 9
    best you can by hand; is that correct?
10
              MS. GLAVICH: Yes, your Honor.
11
               THE COURT: Very well. Thank you. Ms. Glavich, 12
     is it you who will make that change?
13
              MS. GLAVICH: Again, yes.
14
               THE COURT: May I suggest then that you do so now, 15
    please. I'm handing you one of the copies of the verdict 16 sheet. What I will do is ask Ms. Lesley to simply make the 17 second -- in other words, take the old form and give this to 18
     the jurors. Then I can indicate the correction has already 19 been made. That disposes of the first question. Thank you.
20
     I'm sorry, the second question which is the easy one.
21 let's do that now so that we can turn our attention to the 22 first question.

[Brief pause.]

24

25

THE COURT: Counsel, how do you suggest that the Court answer the first question?

MR. O'NEIL: Well, your Honor the parties located a case called Cardoba Initiative Incorporation versus Deak at 900 F Supp. 2d 42, a 2012 case out of this court that cites to a quote from Firestone versus Firestone, 76 F3d 1205 out of the D.C. Circuit, 1996, that simply states whether a fiduciary relationship exists is a fact-intensive questions. The fact finder must consider the nature of the relationship, the promises made, the type of services or advice given and the legitimate expectations of the parties.

I don't know how much you want to say to them. My understanding is that the definition of a fiduciary duty under DC law is intentionally vague, and it looks at the factors about the relationship and the trust put in one party by another.

THE COURT: We have located, I believe, the correct citation is Title 29, Section 80409 of the DC Code which has the heading, Standards of Conduct for Members and Managers. I will hand you the statute which Mr. Munoz located, and which I have sought to edit in an effort to answer the jurors' question which is when we strip away the rubric, what is the definition of fiduciary duty? It is actually a little surprising that no standard instruction, and we have continued to search, includes a definition. But what I would propose to read from the statute and I'm going to hand this to the two of you so you can see it, is as follows, "A member of a member managed limited liability company owes to the company and the other members the duties

 2 3
     of loyalty and care.
 4
               Such duties include refraining from dealing with 5
     the company in the conduct of the company's activities and 6 affairs in a manner adverse to the company; and second, 7
     discharging the duties and obligations under the operating 8 agreement period."
 9
               I will hand you our highlighted underscored hand 10 deleted free text version so you'll be aware of the source 11 of that definition. I believe that is as precise an answer 12 to the question as we can muster under the circumstances.
13
               MR. O'NEIL: I believe the parties are in 14 agreement, your Honor. We're fine with it the way you read 15
     it.
16
               THE COURT: Thank you. Let's hope that I can 17 remember what I read. Because the Court has provided a printed copy of all instructions, we will reduce this one to 18 writing as well. Are you satisfied, Ms. Glavich?
19 20
               MS. GLAVICH: Yes.
21
               THE COURT: You, Mr. O'Neil?
22
               MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor.
```

THE COURT: Members of the jury, thank you. Good

[Thereupon, Jury enters courtroom at 2:55 p.m.]

THE COURT: Very well. Thank you.

afternoon.

We have reviewed your note and are prepared now to respond. The first question reads, "On page 14 of the jury instructions could we get a more specific clarification of the meaning of quote 'fiduciary duty,' close quote, and how it relates to the law?"

I will instruct you now that a fiduciary duty is a duty of loyalty and care. A member of a member managed limited liability company owes to the company and to the other members the duties of loyalty and care. Such duties as relevant to this lawsuit include refraining from dealing with the company in the conduct of the company's activities and affairs in a manner adverse to the company. And two, a member shall discharge the duties and obligations under the operating agreement consistent with the contractual obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

We will provide you with a written copy of this instruction in a few minutes. We just ask that you please bear with us while we prepare it.

Your second question reads, "We aren't lawyers, but want to clarify that quote 'T-O-R-T-U-O-U-S' close quote as referred to on page four of the verdict sheet is the same as quote 'T-O-R-T-I-O-U-S' close quote in the additional jury instructions."

You have again -- the answer is that you have

1
     again identified a typographical error. You aren't lawyers, 2
    but you are careful and observant readers, and we thank you
     for that. The form has again been edited to make the correction and Ms. Lesley will make the substitution of the 5
     form that you have with the form, before the form that has 6
     the corrections on page four.
 7
               Thank you very much. I will ask you to return to 8
     the deliberation room, please. We would appreciate if you 9 would bear with us a few minutes while we prepare the 10 instruction regarding the written definition and brief 11 instruction regarding fiduciary duty. Thank you so much.
12
               [Thereupon, Jury exits courtroom at 3:00 p.m.]
13
               THE COURT: Very well. We will recess at this 14 time. I will quickly reduce the instruction to writing 15 while I still remember what I said and we will provide that 16 to the jury. If you would like to see it before we do so as 17 long as you'll be in the courtroom for the next few minutes 18
     we will allow you to do it. Would you like to review it, 19
    Ms. Glavich?
20
              MS. GLAVICH: Yes, please, your Honor.
21
               THE COURT: You, Mr. O'Neil?
22
              MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor.
23
               THE COURT: Very well. We'll go off the record 24 until we are summoned by another note.
25
               [Thereupon, recess taken at 3:02 p.m., resuming at

1 4:11 p.m.]

THE COURT: We're back on the record. Thank you. You are aware, of course, that the Court received a note. I asked Ms. Lesley to please share the note with you, and I believe while you were reviewing it that a second note came. I'd like to see if we can at least if we can prepare quickly to address both notes. The reason I use the term quickly it is because it is now close to 4:15. I believe the jury's intention is to deliberate until five and then recess for the day. And I would like for the jury to have the answers to the questions for the remaining time that they have to deliberate this afternoon.

The first question reads, "parenthetical, sorry,

Do the impossibility instructions apply only to the breach of contract claim and counterclaim, or to all the claims;

including good faith, fiduciary duty, tortious interference and conversion?" I believe that the answer to that question is yes. The impossibility instructions apply only to the breach of contract claim.

MR. O'NEIL: That's our belief as well, your Honor.

THE COURT: Should that answer be claim and counterclaim? That is how the question is written.

MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: Very well. Ms. Glavich, are you in

1 agreement?
 2
              MS. GLAVICH: Yes, your Honor.
 3
               THE COURT: Very well. Thank you very much.
 4
     second question reads as follows, "If awarded a damage does 5 it have to be monetary? Or can it solely be return of 6 property?" That appears to me to be a reference to the 7 conversion claim since I am not certain as to what other 8 claims there could be a question regarding return of 9 property.
10
              MR. O'NEIL: I agree with that, your Honor.
11 think the parties are in agreement that it's up to them to 12
     do one or the other or both or you know.
13
               THE COURT: As to the conversion claim?
14
              MR. O'NEIL: Yes.
15
               THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. O'Neil. Ms. Glavich?
16
              MS. GLAVICH: We agree, your Honor.
17
               THE COURT: Given your responses the answer I propose is as follows; your question appears to concern the 18 19 conversion claim. It is entirely up to you to decide the 20 appropriate measure of damages should you find that 21 defendants have carried their burden as to that count.
2.2
     that acceptable?
23
              MR. O'NEIL: Yes, your Honor.
24
               THE COURT: Ms. Glavich?
25
              MS. GLAVICH: Yes, your Honor.
```

1
               THE COURT: Is there anything further before the 2
     jury returns, Ms. Glavich?
 3
               MS. GLAVICH: No, your Honor.
 4
               THE COURT: Mr. O'Neil?
 5
               MR. O'NEIL: No, your Honor.
 6
               THE COURT: Very well. Thank you.
 7
               [Thereupon, Jury enters courtroom at 4:18 p.m.]
               THE COURT: Members of the jury, good afternoon,
 8 9
     please be seated. I'm now prepared to answer the two 10 questions that you sent.
11
               The first question reads, "Do the impossibility 12 instructions apply only to the breach of contract claim and 13 counterclaim or to all the claims; including good faith, 14 fiduciary duty, tortious interference and conversion?" The 15
     answer to your question is yes, the impossibility 16 instructions apply only to the breach of contract claim and 17 counterclaim.
18
               Your second question reads, "If awarded a damage does it have to be monetary, or can it solely be the return 19 20
     of property?" It appears to us that your question concerns 21
     the claim of conversion, defendant's counterclaim of 22 conversion. The answer to the question is that it is 23 entirely up to you should you find that the defendants 24 carried their burden as to that claim to decide what measure of damages is appropriate. That is entirely your decision.
```

1
               I will excuse you at this point from the courtroom
 2
     so that you can accompany the marshal to the deliberation 3
     room to resume your deliberations. It is my understanding 4 that you believe you'd like to recess by about five. I will 5 ask you to please notify the deputy marshal when you are 6 ready to recess. We will ask you to come back into the 7 courtroom. I will excuse you at that point, and you will 8 return in the morning.
 9
               I will let you know that Ms. Lesley has already 10 ordered your refreshments for morning and lunch for tomorrow 11 afternoon. Very well. Thank you very much.
12
               [Thereupon, Jury exits courtroom at 4:21 p.m.]
13
               THE COURT: Counsel, is there anything else you 14 wish to address before the recess and reconvene, we assume 15 close to five o'clock, Ms. Glavich?
16
               MS. GLAVICH: No, your Honor.
17
               THE COURT: Mr. O'Neil?
18
               MR. O'NEIL: No, your Honor.
19
               THE COURT: Very well. Thank you very much.
                                                             We 20
     are off the record.
21 [Thereupon, recess taken at 4:22 p.m., resuming at 22
               5:00 p.m.]
23
               [Thereupon, Jury enters courtroom at 5:01 p.m.]
24
               THE COURT: Thank you. You may be seated.
25
    Members of the jury, thank you so much. It is now the time

that you indicated you wish to be excused for the evening.
 1
 2
     I will do so now. I will wish everyone a pleasant evening 3 and a safe commute. My understanding is that in some areas 4
     there may be icy patches on the road, so whether you are 5 driving, walking, using Metro, please be careful.
 6
               I will remind you that you're not to discuss the 7 case with anyone until you are reconvened in the morning to 8 resume your deliberations. I have no reason to believe 9
     anyone will expect to discuss it with you. I will simply 10 remind you that your decision is to be based on the evidence 11 that was offered during the course of the trial.
12
               Your morning breakfast has been ordered.
13 believe it will be in by nine o'clock. Ms. Lesley also 14 ordered lunch for you tomorrow. Do you believe you will 15
     resume at nine as you did this morning?
16
               [Jury replies.]
17
               THE COURT: Very well. We again thank you for 18
     your patience, your diligence, your attention to the trial 19 of this matter. Please have a good evening.
20
               [Thereupon, Jury exits courtroom at 5:02 p.m.]
